

Multisystem Involvement in cGvHD

1. Which of the following is considered an atypical manifestation of cGvHD?
 - a) Peripheral neuropathy
 - b) Skin rash
 - c) Reduced range of motion
 - d) Oral ulcers
2. Which uncommon but severe condition may develop due to cGvHD-related vascular complications?
 - a) Pulmonary hypertension
 - b) Low hemoglobin
 - c) Muscle twitching
 - d) Rapid weight gain
3. Which dermatological sign is an atypical manifestation of cGvHD?
 - a) Lichen planus-like lesions
 - b) Hyperpigmentation
 - c) Increased hair growth
 - d) Cold urticaria
4. Which atypical manifestation of cGvHD can affect the reproductive system?
 - a) Premature ovarian failure
 - b) Increased testosterone
 - c) Enlarged lymph nodes
 - d) Bone marrow hyperplasia

Answer Key

1. a - Explanation: Peripheral nerve damage can occur in cGvHD but is not commonly recognized.
2. a - Explanation: cGvHD-induced vascular damage can lead to pulmonary hypertension, causing respiratory distress.
3. a - Explanation: Lichen planus-like skin changes are occasionally seen in cGvHD.
4. a - Explanation: cGvHD can cause hormonal imbalances leading to infertility.