

How do we make sure vaccines are safe?

Monitored from Day One

Rigorous, professional safety monitoring of our vaccines starts during development and through all clinical studies

Safety Monitoring Never Stops

When vaccines enter the market, we continue to monitor their safety indefinitely while they are available, via our PSPV team

No Report is Too Minor to Review

PSPV's only job is safety; they investigate all reports

Sanofi PSPV

Safety reports are looked at individually and in context

Looks at each report on its own

Looks at all reports for a product together to periodically re-examine risk/benefit profile

Reports all events and findings to the FDA and VAERS
